

Join St Nicks!

Help grow the green heart of York

Over more than two decades, volunteers and supporters have made St Nicks what it is today – a flourishing hub of green inspiration for the city.

We continue to improve St Nicks Local Nature Reserve for the benefit of both wildlife and people. As of 2018 we have recorded over 860 species on the former site of Tang Hall tip.

We help people connect to nature. From conservation volunteering and Ecotherapy, to summer play schemes and our Eco-Crafters – hundreds of people benefit from and improve their relationship with nature through our work.

Our projects and services help make a greener, better city. We run a thriving waste minimisation service, support and train other groups, and inspire environmental action.

Your support will help us sustain and expand our work. Join us to help fulfill our vision for York to be a city where people value wildlife, the environment and each other equally to sustain a rich and healthy life for all.
